

Eric and Stacey

Hello Birthmother,

We are Eric and Stacey and we want to thank you for allowing us the opportunity to introduce ourselves and share a little insight into our lives.

We have been together for almost 12 years and as a couple we laugh a lot, love spending time in the outdoors and just enjoy spending time together. The activities that we enjoy together are hiking, camping and water sports. We also enjoy going out to listening to bands and comedians.

Most of our free time is spent either alone together or with family and friends. Our network of friends is wonderful. They are caring and easy-going people of all ages and backgrounds. Our families of origin are split between states, some are in Maine and others are in more Southern east coast states. We both believe family is important so we make extra efforts to see all family members many times throughout the year. There is always laughter at each gathering. At this time we do not have any children of our own, but are looking forward to starting a family through adoption.

Please know that we appreciate that you are considering us to raise this child and we assure you that he or she will be the "joy" of our lives and be brought up in our happy home surrounded by much love. This is a selfless decision you are making, and it shows the unconditional love and that you have for your unborn baby. We hope that we are that perfect family that will put your worries to rest.

Best wishes,

Eric and Stacey
